

Maria Stamatopoulou (B.A. in History and Archaeology, University of Athens; MSt & DPhil in Classical Archaeology, University of Oxford) is Associate Professor in Classical Archaeology at the University Of Oxford. Her main research focuses on Thessaly, its settlement patterns, sanctuaries, mortuary archaeology, material culture; she is also interested in the history of archaeological investigations during the late 19th and early 20th century (with emphasis on archival work). She has co-edited three books (on new discoveries from Greece and on the banquet in a funerary context) and has published papers on ancient Demetrias, Pharsalos, funerary architecture, the Demetrias tombstones, gold lamellae, the history of Thessaly in the late Archaic period, the topography and pottery of Pharsalos. Her current key projects include: the publication of the excavations in the western cemetery of Pharsalos (with S. Katakouta) and the publication of A.S. Arvanitopoulos' excavations in the cemeteries and sanctuary of Pasikrata at Demetrias, eastern coastal Thessaly.